Barbara Eberlein

If you're looking for beauty in Philadelphia, whether in a museum or in your home, no one is a better guide than Barbara Eberlein. Her interior design firm, Eberlein Design Consultants Ltd., is award-winning, and she's also the president of the Philadelphia chapter of the Institute of Classical Architecture & Art.

Age: 58. Neighborhood: Rittenhouse Square.

In the 30 years that I've been here, I moved four times, and always within a three-block radius.

What about Philadelphia inspires me: The Schuylkill River, especially from the boathouses to the Falls Bridge. There's something fundamentally beautiful about that whole weaving path. It just makes you feel filled with oxygen.

Beauty essential: Erno Laszlo Shake-It. You can wear no makeup at all except for this, and you'll look great.

Happiness is: Being comfortable and confident with yourself.

Beauty or brains: Without brains, you can't do anything. And to a large extent, brains create lasting beauty.

The greatest love of my life: My two children.

On aging: If you're busy stimulating yourself and being creative, you won't be thinking about whether you got a new wrinkle.

On community engagement: It's essential. People live very small lives if they only live their own.

My motto is: Look, learn, live, love.

How I get the job done: Carolina Herrera said, "If you can't get your work done between nine and five, you're doing something wrong." It's not working longer; it's working smarter.

Beauty philosophy: Pay attention to your strengths and work to those.

Secret of my success: Perseverance and passion. If you don't absolutely love what you're doing, you shouldn't be doing it.

What inspires me: Beauty of all kinds.

Cause closest to my heart: The Institute of Classical Architecture and Art.
